WE NOMINATE

Roy Kenneth Fairman, soon-to-be-48 Mayor of Princeton Township, who on New Year's afternoon—at the start of his second one-year term as Chairman of the Township Committee—brought into focus the single most important problem confronting Princeton Borough and Township: a united Princeton sometime in the future. Said Fairman, at the conclusion of a traditional review of "major accomplishments" and a workman-like look at the future, "we are concerned with the most realistic appraisal possible, either continuing with the present split community, or proceeding with a united Princeton."

Unlike recent attempts at consolidation, which have been dominated by emotionalism, or have permitted the question to become beclouded as a political issue, Fairman's approach seems eminently sensible. The Township Committee, he reports, "will approach the Mayor and Council of the Borough with a request for them to join with us in a definitive study of the question of municipal consolidation and in the preparation of a series of reports on various aspects of the question so that citizens of the two communities will have before them the facts of 1960-61."

Fairman, a somewhat reluctant candidate at the polls two years ago and therefore a political neophyte (according to his own standards), has completed one of the exacting years in the Township's history. During the past 12 months he and his associates have wrestled with such challenges as a partially complete Master Plan, a program for public housing, the founding of a Township Board of Recreation Commissioners, the adaptation to Township needs of the Borough's fire-alarm system and the development of an independent, Township-sustained Police Department.

It was some 15 years ago that Fairman, son of one of New York State's distinguished sports commentators and first director of Princeton University's Department of Athletics and Physical Education, broke into the local spotlight as first chairman of the Princeton Council of Community Services. This far-sighted organization prepared the initial report which paved the way for the creation in 1959 of a joint Township-Borough Recreation Commission, now a functioning enterprise of two municipalities suddenly finding themselves woefully short of the facilities and support demanded by outdoor-conscious Americans.

Fairman, a decorated veteran of World War II, was singled out by his 1934 Princeton classmates as their "best, all-around athlete." An outstanding football end, the creator of scoring records in basketball, a crack lacrosse player, Fairman a quarter-century ago scored an unprecedented double in the "Frank Merriwell tradition." In 1933-34, he carried off both the John Prentiss Poe Football Cup and the B. Franklin Bunn Basketball Trophy, annually conferred upon the team-member best personifying "sportsmanship, all-around play and influence."

For his unsung achievements as Mayor of the Township of Princeton; for constantly looking to the future—with due consideration for Princeton Past; for relating present-day realities to the demands of the years just ahead; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

NEWS IN THE NEW YEAR
 Varied Events Make Headlines. As Princetonians finished the job of stowing away Christmas decorations, disposing of wreaths and trees and struggling through thank-you notes, the arrival of 1960 wrote widely varying headlines. Among them, these were noteworthy:

The first definite step toward effecting municipal consolidation since the referendum was defeated in 1953 was taken at 4 p.m. on New Year's Day in Township Hall. At the annual reorganization meeting, Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman reported that the Township Committee will invite the Borough to present voters of the two municipalities with a factual survey of what each has at stake in the vital issue. (See "Man of the Week.")

Possibly for the first time in the post-war era, neither Princeton school district will have a contested election. As reported last week, all three incumbents in the Borough have filed without opposition; in the Township, board member Mrs. Marian Epstein will be joined by newcomers George M. Grace of Pretty

New Year's weekend, which made headlines nationally with the inevitable volume of traffic fatalities, was virtually without incident here. Lone exception: four teenagers, two of them Princeton High School students, who smashed into a telephone pole near Monmouth Junction sending one to the hospital with a 60-stitch facial surgery job.

Weatherwise, the first weeks of winter had produced no ice for skating, contrary to last year's steady opportunity for use of Lake Carnegie. Instead, harder members of the Springdale Golf Club found the course to their liking despite the off-season.

On the athletic front, Princeton sports fans appeared likely to find themselves without a winning team in basketball, the sport that most American communities support heavily during the winter months. Both Princeton High School and Princeton University quieted were pegged well below the break-even point in early skirmishing. Hopes were that an upsurge in Princeton hockey fortunes would keep the Tigers in at least one Ivy chase between now and March.

Elsewhere in the news, Princeton's increasingly popular Adult School, backed by one of the nation's ablest faculties by virtue of the community's education-minded populace, released the curriculum for its 18th season . . . Township Magistrate Louis R. Gerber was replaced after serving the municipality for 27 years . . . and the United Community Fund, which has been hoping to announce successful completion of its drive for a record-breaking $212,000, had to announce instead that it wasn't sure just where it stood because its adding machine was broken.

"FOCAL POINTS" SET UP
 In Expanded Alarm System, A new system for answering fire alarms in Princeton Township will go into effect Saturday.

Nineteen "focal points" have been established in the Township to enable volunteer firemen to go directly to a predetermined location. The new alarm system, made possible by an expanded service in Princeton Borough, is based on the number of the alarm sounded for the Township.

The nineteen fire alarm stations in the Township (fire alarm boxes are not located at these points) are at the following intersections: 61, Cherry Hill Road and Ridgeview Road; 62, Great Road and Drakes Corner Road; 63, Great Road and Pretty Brook Road; 64, Rosedale Road and Calverly Drive; 65, Edgerstone Road and Hun School; 67, Lawrenceville Road at Township line; 68, Mercer Road and Quaker Road; 69, Einstein Drive.

Do You Know Nature's SIGN OF DANGER?

Your body's first reaction to illness is generally increased body heat — one of nature's ways of fighting enemies that may strike from inside. Ability to know when such a condition exists is essential — particularly in the case of a young child who cannot tell you what's wrong.

A FEVER THERMOMETER

is a household necessity. We have the easy-to-read kind . . . thermometers with a magnified gauge, so that their accuracy just pops right off them for you to tell instantly what they say.

WEATHER REPORT

'59 a "Normal Year." The thermometer neither dipped below zero nor topped 100; precipitation was slightly above normal but snowfall was far below average. In short, 1959 was a routine year by Weather Bureau standards and thereby failed to make headlines.

It was the coldest lost February, when the temperature reading was seven on two occasions—the 24 and the 26th. Oddly enough, summer's hottest day was recorded a scant week after that season began, when a reading of 98 went into the books for June 29. July and August never matched that, although the humidity occasionally had its day.

Temperature in general was somewhat above normal by 1.6 degrees for the year, averaging 53.1 for this area. Possibly the greatest contrast of all between 1959 and the preceding year was recorded in December. Averaging some three degrees above normal, it was nine degrees higher than the unusually frigid month of December '58.

Precipitation totalled 41.30 inches, 1 1/2 inches more than this section of the state usually experiences. But snowfall total was far below average, at only 15.7 inches as measured. The preceding 12 months had covered the countryside with 42.8 inches.

PERSONALITIES

Dr. Charles B. Erdman, 20 Little River Place, who at age 81 gave the Princeton community a happy start on the New Year by waging a successful fight against a heart ailment. On Princeton Hospital's "critical list" and in an oxygen tent before Christmas, the town's gracious and deeply respected "senior citizen" returned home on New Year's Day.

Dr. and Mrs. Harley J. Lutz, 56 Battle Road, who marked the end of 1959 by celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on New Year's Eve. A Princeton resident for almost a quarter-century, Dr. Lutz is an emeritus member of the University's Department of Economics and an advisor to the National Association of Manufacturers.

William W. Marvel, 285 Western Way, Township Committeeman, author of a 19-page memo on the need for more effective Township government, who had the pleasant experience this week of seeing several of his suggestions accepted. Among them: two public Committee meetings a month instead of one, starting in March, eliminating, thereby, many executive sessions; the formation of a sub-committee system to take the burden of technical detail off the regular Committee; streamlining of the stock whereby letters are referred to Committee for discussion or action; appointment of an assistant Township attorney (an ordinance providing for this new post will be introduced next Monday).

winter home in Naples, Fla., but is reported well on the road to recovery, even though still hospitalized. . . the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund, the recipient of a number of contributions even after the first of the year, stands at $3828.29, an all-time record. Princeton Hospital reports 1069 births during the year just ended, 15 more than in 1958—peak month was January, when 107 new arrivals signed in. . . for a look at 1960's first arrival, see page 8. . . other year-end vital statistics include the welcome news that Princeton Township had no traffic fatality for the first time since 1955.

The year's first general alarm sent firemen hustling to 51 Leigh Avenue at 11:24 Saturday morning. . . as matters turned out, there was no fire or even smoke. . . steam issuing from a broken pipe on the third floor of the Angelo Cenerino home had caught the eye of a passer-by and precaution to protect a heavily-populated area resulted in the alarm being sounded.

Township school children may be experiencing a touch of acrophobia but there is no need for parental alarm. . . School Superintendent William D. Purcell reports that the unusually spacious characteristics of the new Johnson Park and Riverside schools are the cause, pointing out that if, indeed, acrophobia is merely the opposite of claustrophobia.

The Township Committee is studying the preliminary school budget provided by the Board of Education. . . after approval by the County Superintendent of Schools, a public hearing will be held on January 28. . . Borough taxpayers have already been informed that school costs will add 13 points to their rate this year.

NEW MAGISTRATE NAMED

To Succeed Gerber, Louis R. Gerber, who has been Township magistrate for the past 27 years, was replaced on New Year's Day by James S. Hill, 27, Galbreath Drive. Mr. Hill is an attorney on the staff of Johnson and Johnson, New Brunswick.

Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, in announcing Mr. Hill's appointment at the New Year's Day reorganization meeting of Township Committee, gave no reason for replacing Mr. Gerber. However, the former magistrate will be 70 years old before the expiration of the three-year term and committee action is understood to have been taken on that basis. Mr. Gerber has said that there is no statute requiring a magistrate to retire at 70.

At the meeting, Township Committee unanimously passed a resolution commending Judge Gerber for "his devotion to duty, his knowledge of the community and its needs, and his interest in the general welfare of Princeton." He had served for a longer period of time than any magistrate in the state.

Mr. Fairman was re-elected chairman of the Township Committee, which is the equivalent of mayor. Following his re-election, Mayor Fairman outlined the achievements of the Committee in 1969 and its plans for 1970.

LESTER HEADS COUNCIL

As President for 1970, Dr. Richard A. Lester, one of the four Democrats on Borough Council, was named as its president when the governing body reorganized on New Year's Day. He will serve as acting mayor whenever Raymond F. Male is absent from town for 72 hours or more, and succeeds Dan D. Coyle in this capacity.

Mayor Male delivered his third annual message on the occasion, making as his principal point the urgent need for a new municipal building for the borough. A continuing campaign for Route 266 By-Pass was pledged, as was an effort to "hold the line" in local-purpose taxes. (For the complete text of his address, delivered before a capacity audience in Borough Hall, see page 20.)

Council President Lester will continue as chairman of the finance committee, with Councilman Coyle serving as Police Commissioner for another 12 months. Councilman John J. Redding will continue as Fire Commissioner, with William H. Walker, 2d, newest member of the governing body, named to direct civil defense activities.

Other committee heads: Richard W. Colman, health, welfare and recreation; Alfred E. Sorenson, public works; and Mr. Coyle's Future of Princeton. In the only change among borough officials, Patrolman Frank Maguire was named Juvenile Officer, succeeding Lietz, Peter J. McCrohan.

SEWERS STILL NEWS

In Township, in a year-end report made this week by health officials of Princeton Township, the sewer situation remained where it has been all year; in top position.

During 1969, 71 wells were tested and 33 found to be polluted, according to Mr. Marcelle Farley, Township Health Officer. These wells lay in scattered locations throughout the municipality. Over 25 septic systems were tested through dye-tracing (dye introduced into the home's sewer

"I DO SOLEMNLY SWEAR." New Year's Day marked the beginning of three years of public service for Township Committeemen elected last November. John S. Mount, (left) and Thomas P. age system) and all were found "positive."

At the moment, the situation focuses on Drakes Corner Road, Heather Lane and adjacent areas in the Ridgeview Road section. (See picture, page 9.)

There are two homes in the Heather Lane area whose owners will be required to install pump-out risers to get rid of the overflow from their septic systems. This overflow must be collected at frequent intervals, according to Mrs. Farley, at a cost of $35-50 per load. The houses will also have, involved in their deeds, a statement that septic systems do not comply with state and Township laws.

One pond in the section collects polluted water from a neighboring septic system 550 feet away. The owner of the overflowing system has been forced to build a moat around his house as a partial solution, Mrs. Farley said.

The Drake's Corner problem was explored at Wednesday's meeting of the Township Board of Health when Bruce French, appearing for the Flintkote Corporation, presented a plan for part of the Drakes Corner Corporation. After a lengthy discussion of the problem of surface drainage in the area and the proper places to drill test holes, the Board decided that the plan presented was probably the best that could be proposed, but that it would prove inadequate in the spring when the water table began to rise.

Approval hinges on clearance of the plan from state health officials, provisions for pumping the entire system and the insertion into the deeds of the clause mentioned above.

In other action, the Board of Health heard Mrs. Farley report on the results of her housing survey: "Very little need at this point for public housing in the Township." . . . Erling Dorf, geologist, recently appointed to the Board, will prepare geological maps of rock strata and soil characteristics as an aid in understanding the problems of sewage disposal.

"MAN AND HIS FUTURE"

New Course at Adult School. Ten scholars and specialists in their respective fields will discuss "Man and His Future" in a series of lectures which will be offered this winter as part of the curriculum of the Princeton Adult School. (See page 21.) The lectures will be given at 8 p.m. on ten successive Thursdays beginning January 28.

Discussion will range from the conservation of natural resources to man's own inner resources for meeting the future.

The series will open with a general discussion of space exploration by Dr. Robert Danielson of Princeton's Department of Astronomy. The second speaker will be Dr. Murray Buell of Rutgers who will discuss conservation. Dr. Edwin Biel, also of Rutgers, will discuss the effect of climate on the life of man.

Dr. John Turkovich, of Princeton's Department of Chemistry, will speak on atomic energy. His colleague, Dr. Everett N. Wallis, organic chemist, will describe new advances in agriculture and medicine made possible by research in organic chemistry. Dr.

Wallis played a leading role in the development of cortisone.

The problem of population will be examined by Dr. Wilfrid Barrie, visiting professor of demography from Australia. Dr. Julian Bigelow of the Institute for Advanced Studies will discuss new ways in which computation machines may be used, and J. Douglas Brown will speak on the future of man in a changing society.

Dr. Hadley Cantrell will assess man's changing aspirations and Dr. George F. Thomas will speak on the spiritual and moral predicament of man. Dr. Cantrell is director of the Institute for Inter-

TRAFFIC COURT REPORT

Two Have Licenses Revoked. Miss Susan Valentine, 17, Fiddlers Creek Road, Titusville, was fined $30 by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams in traffic court and had her license revoked for 120 days for leaving the scene of an accident. Sandy Evers, 45, 71 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, was fined $30 for careless driving and had his license revoked for 60 days.

In other traffic violations, John P. Myler, 22, 706 Kingston Road and Donald Ceis, 18, Old Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction, were fined $25 and $20 respectively for speeding. Miss Patricia VanMarter, 16, 5 Lincoln Court paid a $15 fine for careless driving and had her license suspended for 60 days. Mrs. Helen Stanton, 48, Woodville Road, Pennington, was fined $15 for driving with an overdue inspection sticker. All except Mrs. Stanton pleaded guilty.

EVERYTHING UP FOR BIDS

At Smith Auction Saturday. Everything from a beaver coat to a pair of porcelain Chinese cats will be up for bids this Saturday at the eleventh annual Smith Club Auction, to be held from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Miss Fine's School Gym. All proceeds will go to provide scholarships to Smith College. In the past 10 years more than $15,000 has been raised for this purpose by the Princeton club.

Lester M. Slattoff of Trenton will again serve as auctioneer, with members of the club acting as his assistants by delivering items to buyers as soon as they are purchased. The committee of auctioneer's helpers is headed by Miss Nancy J. Scott of Princeton. On hand to greet buyers and answer questions will be a committee of hostesses, directed by Mrs. William E. Schuler of Pennington.

Items to be auctioned off range from a pair of Victorian beds to a whole set of purple crystal, including goblets, sherbet glasses, saucers, finger bowls, candlesticks and a large centerpiece bowl. Also among the hundreds of things to be sold are a portable vacuum cleaner, a Victorian lamp, some carved Swiss figures, several side chairs and a musical decanter.

Donations to the auction have been given by townspeople, local merchants and Smith Club members. Contributions from local stores were solicited by a committee headed by Mrs. Russell Kulsrud of Princeton. Mrs. James S. Hill of Princeton, who is also assistant chairman, was in charge

Luncheon, Bake Sale, Too. Besides the main event, the auction, there will be a sale of home-baked goods, from cakes and cookies to pies and casseroles. Mrs. John M. Thornley of Princeton is in charge of the baked goods table. A luncheon will also be served, with sandwiches made and sold under the direction of Mrs. Henry A. Hill of Princeton.

New to the auction this year will be a children's table, headed by Mrs. Leslie A. Vivian Jr., of Princeton. The table will be especially for children and they can buy, at children's prices, toys, games, dolls and just about everything a child likes. Items of interest to adults but too small to auction will be sold at a small gift table. Mrs. Robert S. Albahary of Hopewell is in charge.

Helping to bring donations to Miss Fine's Gym will be a transportation committee of members with station wagons, headed by Mrs. Raymond Stichel of Princeton. Items will be arranged for display by a committee directed by Mrs. Stanley Ewson of Princeton.

Other committee heads are Mrs. Donald C. Spencer, posters, and Mrs. Leighton H. Laughlin, publicity. Miss Betty Moriarty is general chairman. All are of Princeton.

PLAYERS PLAN "MURDER"

Will Open January 29. The Community Players' production of Emlyn Williams' "A Murder Has Been Arranged" will open on Friday, January 29, at the Alexander Street Playmill. Constance Louis is director. The cast includes Evon Kochey, Jayne Andrews, Lilli Johnson, Elias B. Baker, Judy Walton, Christopher Loux, William Conger, Phyllis Collins and Edward Callanan. The production will be repeated on Saturday, January 30, and on the following two weekends.

MATINEE SCHEDULED

For "Mary Stuart." A special matinee performance on Saturday, February 13, has been added to the previously scheduled evening performances of Schiller's "Mary Stuart." To be presented February 12 and 13 by Dana Attractions, Inc. The matinee, also to be in McCarter Theatre, will begin at 2:30 p.m. All seats for the matinee will be lower priced. In addition, some orchestra seats normally priced at $3.85 will be reduced to $2.50 for all students, both school and college, who are interested in attending the matinee. A limited number of the special student tickets are now on sale at the University Store and inquiries from larger groups should be made by calling Dana Attractions at WA 4-1376.

"Mary Stuart," starring Eva Le Gallienne and Signe Hasso, will be the first regular Broadway show to be presented at McCarter in more than two years. Its engagement here is its only New Jersey stop and the only engagement in a non-major city planned for the show's cross-country tour. The tour will end this Spring with a return visit to Broadway, where the play was originally presented.

The show is being staged nationally by the National Phoenix Theatre and Sol Hurok. Tyrone Guthrie, who is responsible for such Broadway successes as "The Matchmaker" and the current hit, "The Tenth Man," is director.

TWO PROGRAMS ADDED

To Celebrity Series. Two additional programs have been scheduled for the Celebrity Series at McCarter Theatre. They are the Modern Jazz Quartet, which gave a joint concert with Beaux Arts String Trio at Town Hall last September, and Theodore Bikel, folk singer currently appearing in the Broadway show, "Sound of Music." Dates for these two programs will be announced shortly.

Other programs in the Celebrity Series will be Roberto Iglesias' Ballet Espanol, scheduled for February 1; Joyce Grenfell, monologist, February 6; The Weavers, folk-singing quartet, February 27, and the Vienna Boys' Choir, April 1. Tickets may be bought at the University Store or by mail from Celebrity Series, P.O. Box 487, Princeton.

FRENCH FILMS LISTED

By University Club. The French Club of Princeton University has scheduled a showing of two French films at 8:30 on Tuesday in 10 McCosh Hall. The films are "Les Casse-Pieds" and Jean Cocteau's "Sang d'un Poete." Admission will be 50 cents.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Journey to the Center of the Earth (January 6-12), the Jules Verne classic, has been brought to the screen in an adaptation by Charles Brackett which can't seem to make up its mind whether to be science fiction, detective drama or musical comedy. The line-up of stars (Pat Boone, James Mason, Ariane Dail and Diane Baker) reflects this indecision.

News Of The Theatres

Boone, who slips in a song once in a while in his distinctively expressionless baritone. Is the protégé of Mason, an Edinburgh geologist who wants to go to the center of the earth. They set out for Iceland (the year is 1880) to descend a volcano center. Before they set foot in the mountain, however, they meet Miss Dahl, the recent widow of a Swedish professor who wanted to beat Mason to the project, and a local duck tender (Peter Ronson) who has a surprisingly humorous duck named, inevitably, Gertrude. Once everybody has introduced himself, the foursome makes the descent, only to find that Thayer David, who killed Miss Dahl's husband, is already down there. The trip, with its weird caverns, subterranean monsters and sunken cities, is photographed brilliantly in CinemaScope and color and is fascinating, although it partakes more of fiction than of science.

Unfortunately, there's the singing and all that cutesy-doo-robbers nonsense with David to muddy things up. Toward the end, David captures and eats the duck, which establishes his complete villainy without question and makes inevitable his eventual horrible demise, and a couple of love interests spring up. In spite of all this, the sunken cities and magnetic storms are worth seeing.

Happy Anniversary (January 13-14) is a happy and thoroughly delightful adaptation by Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields of their play, "Anniversary Waltz." Wisely, the play made few changes in the transference from stage to screen, taking advantage of Hollywood's new freedom to deal with formerly taboo subjects—in this case, a couple who entered that noble resort, Connorsville, without benefit of the usual passport. While this subject matter removes the film from the realm of kiddie fare, it's nice to know that the movie people are finally beginning to produce a few pictures suitable for adults.

Cast members, all of whom seem to be enjoying themselves, include David Niven, Mitzi Gaynor, Carl Reiner, Loring Smith, Monique Van Vooren and Patty Duke. Niven leads a settled and contented life until, in a moment of mildly alcoholic candor, he indicates to his in-laws that he and his wife (Miss Gaynor), who are ostensibly celebrating their 13th anniversary, should really be making their 14th. Well sir, you can bet the Gaynor clan doesn't take very kindly to this, and their reactions, together with Niven's subsequent anger with himself for having made the announcement, form the highly humorous body of the film. It all comes out happily, of course, but not until one of Niven's youngsters (Miss Duke) lets the whole country in on the secret on a national TV program called "Kiddle Kousoul."

There's quite a bit of farcical social comment in the film, including a number of dead horses which Chodorov and Fields beat with more than ordinary verve. Particularly gratifying to preview audiences was the method Niven chooses to release his self-doubt: he kleges in television sets. In addition to its other virtues, the film is notable for the fact that it provides an important role, as Niven's friend and partner, for Carl Reiner. Sid Green's very funny ex-partner, David Miller directed. Recommended.

THE GARDEN

The Mirror Has Two Faces (January 6-9) is an interesting French product (with English titles) about an ugly young wife who is transformed by plastic surgery into a beauty. The change, which represents all she has most desired, brings about sweeping differences in her life with which she is emotionally involved. —Continued on Page 8

IT'S NEW To Us

WHERE YOU GOING?

Nowhere. Stay-at-homes may soothe themselves by sitting in and looking at some new mid-winter furniture at Schwartz in New Brunswick.

In case you are not 100 inches long, you may prefer something on a smaller scale than the sofa described elsewhere on this page. For example, try a spring-down Lawson club chair, softer as can be, with tailored skirt and classic lines. Its companion, with a bit more frisk, has curving upholstered arms and a gently rounded back. Spring-down here in cushion and pillow, too.

Weiman tables at Schwartz are solid cherry with almost any finish you like (nine or ten choices). We saw them in fruitwood which adds the proper grace-note to the French provincial lines.

There's a long coffee table with a drawer, a step-table with two drawers and an end table with one drawer. The coffee table, as shown, has a creamy Italian marble top, the end-table has a wood-ole top and the step-table has a mellow leather top. This is just for show; actually, you can have any of the tables in either wood, leather or marble. Or maybe oilcloth, for all we know.

Accessories at Schwartz are Italian and Spanish this season. From the artisans of Venice come a little collection of lamps featuring live-inch multi-colored glass globes. One rests on an elephant's back, another on the tip of a dancing girl's toe.

Both lamps rest on a marble base. The same swirls of colored glass have been used in a pair of roosters with clear crystal tails and feet.

Spain produces a pair of table lights rather like elaborate hurricane lamps. The base is an antiqued brass which provides a resting place for three cherubs. The light is encased in a fluted, etched hurricane-style top. You may buy these separately, or in pairs as they are displayed.

South. If Mayme Mead outfits you for cruising, you'll wear linen, batiste and white sharkskin. Look at the drip-dry white batiste, fully lined, with small red flowers and small green leaves embroidered here and there on the skirt and all around the gently U neck. No sleeves.

White sharkskin is straight and to the point, with copen and royal linen arrows sewed to the bodice and pointing up to the Peter Pan collar. Belt matches.

White linen is the substance of a wrap-around with a very deep portrait neck framed by a wide collar which becomes a square sailor in back. A copen hand goes

Down Is Back

Or, to put it another way, back is down. We refer to a sumptuous sofa now on hand in New Brunswick at the Schwartz Furniture Company, on Carroll Road.

Down has been out for a while because of foam. This couch, however, is down all the way through, all 100 inches long of it. The piece comes from the Henredon furniture people who have made it with three loose back pillows and two loose end pillows, one at each, all down-filled. The cushions are down, too.

If you think foam rubber is comfort, just sit on that couch and you'll wonder why—aside from the matter of price—down ever went out. (The matter of price is not one to be taken lightly, and if you buy this sofa you may have to make an adjustment or two in the mortgage.)

The sofa has high upholstered arms which are continuous with the back, and a tailored front skirt. At the moment, it is upholstered in a perfectly intoxicating cotton print of purple grape bunches and green grape leaves, but you may have something less Bacchanalian if you prefer.

all the way down the front closing and around the collar.

Black silhouettes of fashionable ladies parade, row after row, around a white pique sundress. The ladies' legs make a pleasant repeat pattern of "V's" and the whole effect is quite amusing. Pleats, square neck, no sleeves.

Mayme Mead's favorite dacton and cotton sundress is a white flower print, of purple thistles, red geraniums, green leaves and pleats. The pleats not only soften the skirt but add interest to the bodice as well. They are sharp as tucks across the bosom but soft as they hang from the belt.

You'll be dazzled by a silk print shirtwaist on the Mead scales. It combines brilliant pink, blue and purple ecru in blinding bouquets. The dress itself is simple. Wouldn't it have to be?

Wear and carry everywhere a white jersey shirtwaist with lemon yellow coin dots on its back ground. There are short sleeves and half-inch pleats around the skirt. A splendid silk print is black and white, with a black background and white solids that could be — houses? a bent wine glass? a crooked crescent moon? There is a big, soft neck how and a very deep gusset which goes almost to the end of the three-quarter sleeve.

And if you can wear it — buy the size 8 powder blue cotton with white polka dots and a top which hangs softly over the skirt like a shy little peplum. Rows of white — Continued on Page 8

"I'll Cry Tomorrow" (January 11). Some months ago this department noted that wherever a producer needs a miserable, sick, unhappy, blue-ribbon, depraved, wretched but brave girl, the choice seems to be Susan Hayward. Well, this is the picture that started it all, back in 1939. Adapted from Lillian Roth's book, "I'll Cry Tomorrow" was one of the first among the current rash of confession-biographies, and it is by all odds the ugliest. Miss Hayward plays today, tomorrow and by the looks of her eyes, yesterday as well, and it must be admitted she's pretty good at it, if you go for that sort of thing. By now Miss Roth's uphill battle with demon rum must be almost as much a part of the common myth as Horatio Alger's glibly bootleg-lifting or Errol Flynn's wicked, wicked ways, so the Gauden's selection of it as an Outstanding Film from the Past is of some historical interest. In addition to Miss Hayward, the lachrymose cast features Richard Conte, Eddie Albert, Jo Van Fleet and Don Taylor.

Grand Illusion (January 12-16), a drama about French soldiers in a German prisoner-of-war camp during World War I, was selected by the 1958 Brussels Film Festival as one of the six best films of all time. Released in 1938, the Jean Renoir film stars Eric Von Stroheim, Jean Gabin and Pierre Fresnay.

North. For people who prefer pine to palm and powder snow to white sand, Frank's Sport Shop in the Shopping Center is the place to go. Our favorite piece of equipment at Frank's is the six-foot toboggan ($24.95) but as we are only live and one-half feet we decided not to buy it. This slender and lithe little four-foot friend, are all made of stout oak and inquired to take you to the bottom in no time. At least, the toboggan will get to the bottom in no time; we just hope you aren't on your own.

Ski here for everybody on up Anderson and Thompson is the craftsman. There are junior sizes, intermediate sizes and big economy sizes, and all kinds of poles to help you along.

Some poles have the wheels—if that's the word—which are all plastic, others have leather spokes. All poles are aluminum.

And then—there are bindings, Jaegers, Jaeger removers for people who are dissatisfied, ski goggles, tow grips, paraffin, French ankle protectors in case you know a good pair of French ankles, oil for waterproofing anything—maybe even the seal of your ski trousers for all we know—and a red knit head-band to wear instead of ear-muffs and hat.

Ski equipment has been around Frank's for some time, of course, but the quantity of ski clothing is something new. Men, women and juniors may be outfitted here from insulated underwear on out.

Women may choose an unlined nylon windbreaker from a rack of red ones, powder blue ones, royal blue ones. Some have knit cuffs, others just have elastic around the wrist. Most of them have a hood; some are slip-ons and others are front zippered.

One woman's jacket is made of red poplin with grey "fur" at the bottom and around the hood. There's embroidery around another.

Men's jackets are mostly poplin in red or black with front zipper and hood and there's a dandy quilted nylon jacket for men, too. Juniors' jackets are all nylon with quilted linings, so far as we could tell.

Pants, all around, are wool-rayon gabardine in black, navy, maroon, copen and so on; navy and black for men.

Ski mitts, for men and women, are regulation design, with wool knit linings and act like mitts. White leather, perhaps? Or powder blue?

THE POND NOBODY WANTS: It isn't a pond, actually; it's a pool which forms every time there is excess moisture on this particular plot in the Heather-Lane-Ridgeview Road area. Township health officials released the picture this week to answer criticism of Township sewer surveys around Heather Lane. The pile of rock in the background is the same rock that underlies the heavy clay soil and both rock and clay make it impossible, according to Township health officers, for septic systems to operate for long without overflowing. The house in the far background is the home of Herbert J. Kendall, who has been a critic of Township sewer surveys.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Walker Stevenson Jr. and Mrs. R. Reed Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart C. Morgan, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. DeWitt Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Campbell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Walt S. Humphrey.

BRAEBURN APPROVED

By Planning Board. The Braeburn subdivision proposed by Princeton Manor Construction Company was approved at Monday night's meeting of the Township Planning Board. Princeton Manor plans to build 42 lots in the subdivision, which is off South Main Lane.

The Planning Board agreed to Princeton Manor's request to reduce the length of sidewalks and curbs required in the new development. There was considerable discussion of the matter because Planning Board members felt that the decision might set a precedent.

The proposal of Princeton Construction—not related to Princeton Manor Construction—to build next to Adams Drive, was not dealt with heat during the brief public session of the Planning Board.

H. E. Switzgabel of Adams Drive appeared as spokesman for the residents who object to the road which Princeton Construction would build behind the Adams Drive lots. He told the board that Carl Geiger of Princeton Construction had offered an offer of $5,000 for a 30-foot strip of buffer land which had been suggested as a solution to the problem. Mr. Geiger wanted $10,000, the board was told, so that he would be reimbursed for the cost of the land, but for the profit he would lose by forfeiting the construction of one house.

Samuel Frothingham, chairman of the board, told Mr. Switzgabel that his negotiations with Mr. Geiger were not pertinent in a Planning Board hearing. "The Board is not interested in anything you have to say until the case is complete," Mr. Frothingham said. "We are not interested in the details of arbitration between two parties."

Mr. Switzgabel and his neighbors will seek to reach agreement with Mr. Geiger is time to present a final plan to the Board in February.

In a long executive session, the Board heard a query from Albridge C. Smith, appearing for Mrs. Edward Howe, about the possible resignation of The Great Road. There was also discussion of roads which are part of the Master Plan and of the possibility of augmenting the engineering staff so that location surveys of new roads may be made.

A communication from Dr. Walton Van Winkle, chairman of the multiple housing committee, was read. Dr. Van Winkle said that he hopes for a multiple-housing report by mid-February.

TEENAGERS INJURED

In New Year's Eve Accident. Four teenagers, two of them students at Princeton High School, were injured Thursday night when the car in which they were riding hit a telephone pole on Ridge Road in Monmouth Junction.

Walter Stalcup, 16, 14 Day Road, Plainsboro, had 60 stitches taken in his face and was treated for a cerebral concussion. George Turner, 16, Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction, was also treated at Princeton Hospital.

The driver, Joseph Sullivan, 17, Linden Lane, Plainsboro, and John O'Hagan, 16, Ridge Road, Monmouth Junction, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

SANTA SAYS THANK YOU

To All His Helpers. Henry Schultz, the telephone Santa Claus who makes Christmas merry each year for Princeton children, turned the tables this week by issuing a big thank you to all those who helped him run the program. Among those he cited were the mothers of the children who called, the telephone operators, and the many Princeton merchants who contribute to a fund for him.

Mr. Schultz estimated that he talked to almost 500 children this year, during 10 days of receiving phone calls. This compares with 189 children in five days in 1949, the first year that Mr. Schultz took over the role of Santa.

Additional merchants who have just joined the group of sponsors for Mr. Schultz's fund are: Douglas MacDaid, Stone's Linen Shop, The Watch Shop, Harry Bailor, Wilcox Pharmacy, The French Shop, Laidlaw & Co., South's Garage, Wine & Game, Les Girls. Also, Edith's Lingerie Shop, The Fabric Shop, The Black Lantern, Nassau Interiors, Princeton Water Co., The Thorne Pharmacy, Nassau Savings & Loan, Mayme Mead, Morris Maple, Gene Seal, Kase Kleener, Mary Gill, Dolores Hair Stylist, Joseph B. Redding and Royal Scarlet.

SPORTSMEN ACTIVE

To Meet Next Thursday. The Italian-American Sportsmen's Club will hold its regular meeting next Thursday, when projects will be planned for the year. Membership rates have been reduced, and those interested should call Pat Petronzi, president, at WA 4-4063, or see D. Don Richards at 231 Nassau Street.

Over 100 children attended the club's second Christmas party, which was in charge of Mrs. Lena Esposito. Lawrence Ferrara Sr. presented the gifts. The New Year's Eve party, whose chairmen were Jack Petronzi and Sam Nini, was attended by 330 members and guests.

NEW PUPILS CAN ENROLL

In Rocky Hill Nursery School. Applications from new pupils for enrollment in the second term are being accepted by the Rocky Hill Cooperative Nursery School. Those interested should call Mrs. Clement Baldwin, registrar, at Walnut 1-8129.

The school is under the direction of two qualified nursery school teachers, Mrs. Thomas Pfeiffer, director, and Mrs. Charles Allen. Classes are held at the Rocky Hill Elementary School on Montgomery Road. Three-year-olds attend Tuesday and Thursday mornings, and the four and five year group meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

This is the school's first year of operation. Students are transported by their parents, usually in car pools, from Princeton, Blawenburg, Skillman, Pennington, Belle Meade, and Kingston, as well as Rocky Hill.

HOUSING ON AGENDA

For Borough Council. The subject of housing will be featured at the Borough Council's regular meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. The Council will take official action on its reply to the Township proposal on public housing there; will consider a resolution regarding study for relocation of families who may be displaced by urban renewal, and will take action on its cooperative agreement with the Housing Authority, as required by Federal regulations.

Also up for consideration are a liquor license for the Princeton Inn, which currently has only a Township license, and a resolution designating the borough engineer as traffic engineer. In addition, the Council will take action on Page 13.

VICE PRESIDENTS NAMED

By Gallup & Robinson, Inc. The election of five new vice presidents of Gallup & Robinson, Inc., was announced this week by Leroy E. Purvis, chairman and president. Mr. Purvis termed the appointments "a major step" in the long-range growth plan of the advertising research firm.

Three of the new appointees were named vice presidents for client service. They are Glenn Mohrman, 16 Westery Rd., Robert F. Murray, 419 Walnut Lane, and Ernest A. Rokeby, 8 East Franklin Avenue, Pennington. Lawrence G. Elliot, 419 Westcott Road, was elected vice president in charge of research, with responsibility for research techniques, development of special projects and basic research. He will also have considerable client contact. Named vice president in charge of operations was Richard H. Williams of 512 Ewing Street. He will be responsible for interviewing, data processing, production and personnel.

Mr. Mohrman, who has been with Gallup & Robinson since 1965, previously held the position of general service executive, conducting clinics on consumer and industrial advertising. Mr. Murray, a member of the firm since 1960, served as manager of the Magazine Analysis and Television Impact Research Departments and most recently as account supervisor. Mr. Rokeby, who also joined G & R in 1960, was a general service executive, supervising research and liaison for several accounts.

Mr. Ulin was serving as project director of special studies prior to his election as vice president. Since joining G & R in 1960, he has also been director of Television Impact research, chief analyst of Magazine Impact research, and interviewing department head. Mr. Williams, who has been with the firm since 1961, formerly served as director of operations, with responsibility for processing of data and production of reports, and as director of interviewing.

THOMPSON NAMED PARTNER of Francis I. Dubout & Co. Gough W. Thompson, Jr., of Ridge Road, Kingston, has been admitted to general partnership in Francis I. Dubout & Co., a security and commodity brokerage firm. Mr. Thompson joined the company in 1961 and has since served in various capacities including those of assistant to the partner in charge of advertising and of training and sales supervision director.

A native of Baltimore, Mr. Thompson was graduated from Princeton University in 1952. He was a field artillery captain in the Army in Korea, where he served as forward observer in the several battles of Pork Chop Hill.

Mr. Thompson is active in civic affairs in Kingston, where he is a member of Town Planning Board. He is married and has two children, Gough W. 3rd and Elizabeth.

J. & J. NAMES OFFICER

To Be Vice-President, Robert W. Johnson, 108 Edgerstone, has been named executive vice-president and general manager of Johnson & Johnson. He has been executive vice-president of marketing since 1955 and a member of the executive committee of the Board of Directors since 1954. He joined the firm in 1940 as an employee in the plaster mill.

Mr. Johnson is the son of the chairman of the firm's Board of Directors and the grandson of the first R. W. Johnson who founded the firm in 1886. He is a graduate of Millbrook School and he attended Hamilton College and the University of Kentucky.

NEW LINES AT SHELTON

Valiant, Simca, Adhler, The Chrysler-built Valiant and the French-built Simca have been added to the stock of the Shelton Motor Company, 300 Witherspoon. Both Simcas and Valiants are available for immediate delivery, according to "Tony" Nini, owner of the Chrysler-Plymouth agency. The Simca, styled in Paris, has a deluxe four-door five-passenger sedan with a retail price of $1567. Other models include the Elsyse five-passenger sedan, the Simca Grand Large two-door hardtop and the Elsyse five-passenger sedan. The Elsyse is a budget version of the Elsyse.

Chrysler's four Valiant models fall in the medium-size car category, with a wheel base of 106 inches. There are two sedans and two station wagons, one wagon a six passenger, the other a nine. Valiant, a front engine, standard trunk car, starts at $2063.

J. W. TRAEGLER RETIRES

From First National Bank, John W. Traegler, vice - president of the First National Bank of Princeton, retired last week, after 34 years of service. Mr. Traegler came to the bank in 1921 and served as teller and assistant cashier before becoming vice - president in 1941. He has been active in civic affairs in Princeton, serving as treasurer of the Community Chest and as a member of the wartime Police Reserve.

GDI BUYS 33 ACRES

Expansion Is Planned. General Devices, Inc. has purchased a 33-acre tract adjacent to its present site on Ridge Road near Monmouth Junction. It was announced this week. The additional land will be used for needed expansion of the company, which is engaged in the development and production of multiplex telemetering equipment.

GDI bought the tract from Daystrom, Inc., through Henson-Set-Continued on Page 28

ROCKY'S DECISION DEBATED: Was Governor Rockefeller's recent decision not to seek the Republican nomination a popular one or not? Telephone interview John Van Kirk (left) and Bill Murphy consider the question academically, since both feel the Governor is going to win in '60, anyway. For their's and other reactions to the Governor's unexpected announcement, see below. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Are you in favor of Governor Rockefeller's decision to withdraw from the 1960 Presidential race?

Where asked: Around town.

Mrs. Thomas Tennyson, RD 1, secretary: Yes, I am, because I think we have much better presidential candidates that can step right into the vacancy left by Rockefeller. Furthermore, I can't think of any person who could have done less for his party than Governor Rockefeller. And I think that he realizes that himself, and that he made a wise decision, not only for himself but for his party as well.

Martin Louis, Princeton '56, Trenton lawyer serving in the U.S. Army: No, because I wish he had run and beat out Nixon. If there is going to be a Republican in the White House, I'd prefer it to be Rockefeller instead of Nixon. Like most of the people on the street, I'm a Democrat.

Mrs. Archibald Browne, 70 Cleveland Lane, housewife: Yes I am—very much so. I'd just as soon not see a millionaire in a position of that kind.

Peter Francis, 739 Kingston Road, engineer and surveyor: Yes, because I think he hasn't been governor of New York long enough to show what he can do. I think he'll be a good man for '64 — providing his record holds up.

Mrs. J.M. Hunter, 32 William Street, teacher: I don't think I do because I feel it's a little too early for him to decide. I believe he should have thought it over more.

Peter Panagos, 3 Palmer Square, engineer: Yes, very much so, because between Nixon and Rockefeller I am a Nixon supporter.

Harry Sorenson, Pretty Brook Road, chauffeur: Yes, I am, because I think Nixon is a good man. Rockefeller has plenty of time—he is a young man. If Nixon gets beaten this year, then Rockefeller would be a very good man for the Republicans to put up in 1964.

Thomas W. Brian, Main Street, Kingston, superintendent of grounds and buildings at Princeton Theological Seminary: I'm very much in favor of it because I believe Nixon has a much better chance of becoming the next president. I would like to see Rockefeller as a running mate; I think both of them would make an unbeatable ticket. However, from the recent statements he has made, there is little hope of that.

Mrs. Ethel Stratton, 37 Higgins Street, housewife: I'm not disappointed to see Rockefeller withdraw because I think Nixon is the better man. Nixon's done a lot for the country.

Frederick Blaicher, Carter Road, president of P.M.I.: I respect Rockefeller's wishes and his decision, but I was reluctant to see him withdraw from the race. Frankly, I think a man of his background and capabilities would have added stimulation to the contest for the Republican nomination for president.

Mrs. Doris Petersen, Shelley Road, Franklin Park, housewife: Yes, because I believe he would have a better chance in '64 and I would like to see him run then.

John Baum, 155 Edgerstone Road, Oberlin College professor on sabbatical leave at Princeton: I'm not in favor of it. I prefer Rockefeller to Nixon; he strikes me as a better candidate.

Mrs. Harold M. Hinkson Jr., Mt. Lucas Road, housewife: No. I sort of think it left the Republicans without a top candidate. I would have liked to have seen Rockefeller run. Nixon would have made a better running mate for Rockefeller than vice versa.

Kenneth Fink, Georgetown Turnpike, director of Princeton Research service: Yes, I think his tactics and the way he was advised by his public relations men were unfortunate. I believe his tactics involved too much use of the Madison Avenue techniques. You can use them on soap but not on people.

Mrs. John Sky, 221-A Eisenhower Street, housewife: No, I wish he had stayed in the race because I like him better than I do Nixon.

John Childs, 181 Lauri Road, educator: Well, yes, because I think it will make it more difficult for the Republicans because of their failure to make it a contest for the nomination.

Mrs. Hobart Betts, 56 Bayard Lane, housewife: Yes, I am. Rockefeller can save himself for the next election and be able to prove better his abilities in the intervening years.

William Murphy, Plainsboro, telephone lineman: I don't care one way or the other because I don't think the Republicans have a chance of winning in '60 anyway.

John Van Kirk, Princeton Junction, foreman: It's immaterial to me whether Rockefeller seeks the nomination or not. I don't believe the Republicans are going to win the coming election nor do I think Rockefeller's decision will either hurt or help the Democrats.

WE LIVE ON THE HILL
Civic Association Is Active. In the spring of 1947, a group of residents in the Hillcrest area decided to band together for the dual purpose of protecting their property interests and having a good time.

The idea came from Ralph Hagen, 88 Red Hill Road, who has seen the Hillcrest Civic Association grow from ten families to an active list of 62.

"I dreamed up the idea because the community was growing," says Mr. Hagen, "and I felt that it would be a good idea to protect the interests of the people in the area — and provide them with some social life, too."

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Hagen, there were 14 other couples who attended the organization meeting in 1947. They are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pearson, developer of the area; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Deventer; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moran; Mr. and Mrs. George Kanefer; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber; Mr. and Mrs. John Muller; Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas, who have since left Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bates, Dr. and Mrs. Irving Wolf, Col. and Mrs. Francis J. Daise, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brickley, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon London, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Law and Mr. and Mrs. George Szklar.

Today, the Hillcrest Association

IN TOKEN OF SERVICE: Members of the Hillcrest Civic Association have presented a gavel to Ralph M. Hagen, leader of the Association, as a token of his many years of service to the neighborhood organization. Mr. Hagen is moving to Hawaii. Participating in the informal ceremonies are (left to right) Mrs. Bruce Bedford, J., secretary of the Association; Dr. W. D. Van Riper, president; Mr. Hagen and J. Alfred Setts, treasurer. For additional information about Hillcrest activities, see story this page. (Staff Photo) serves an area including Route 206 from the Edwin Kimble home south through the Pearson tract, Laurel Road, the upper part of Jefferson Road, Woodland Drive and Managrove.

The Association acts as a group in matters which affect its members. "We don't create issues except only to maintain what we regard as a 'Class A' neighborhood," says Dr. W. D. Van Riper, 131 Red Hill Road, current president.

Temporary Housing Sidetracked.

One of the first problems tackled by the Association was the temporary housing which Princeton Township had planned to build where the Township garage now is. The Association, feeling strongly that temporary housing would alter the character of the neighborhood, presented its case to the zoning board and succeeded in blocking the project. The houses were later built on River Road and have since been razed.

On the positive side, the Association got the Township to landscape and maintain two unoccupied triangles on Red Hill Road: one at State Road and one on Mount Lucas, and the area behind the present Township garage on Mount Lucas. Members of the group were also instrumental in obtaining mail delivery right to the door in their area instead of to mailboxes on the highway.

"We believe in stimulating interest in local government," Mr. Hagen explains, "and we ask members of various Township bodies to come to our meetings and talk to us."

Township mayors, members of Committee and Planning Board have appeared before the Hillcrest Association to talk about local matters. The group does not endorse candidates for office.

By-Pass Supported. At the moment, the Association is pushing the 26A by-pass and has sent representatives to the State Highway Department and letters to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

"We try to exert pressure on the State through Township Committee," says Dr. Van Riper, "so that traffic on Route 206 will be decreased."

The Association is also watching anxiously to see what the Township does about a proposed traffic circle where Township Hall, Township Garage and Valley Road school cluster together.

Naturally, in a neighborhood area such as this, there are occasional disputes between members. Perhaps Mr. X's property slopes so that storms drain down into Mr. Y's garden, or Mr. Z's dog infringes the property rights of Mr. W. These disputes, carried to the Association, are usually solved amicably.

In fact, the amenities are a first part of Hillcrest Association life and new residents in the neighborhood find the welcome extended by the Association very welcome indeed. There is a gathering every month or so in a member's home, a square dance now and then, a picnic in the late summer and a Christmas party. Over 100 people attended the annual picnic this year, and attendance at the monthly gatherings averages 25 or 30.

There is a constitution and annual dues of $10 per member family. Dr. Van Riper, 131 Red Hill Road, is the current president. Mrs. Bruce Bedford, Jr., 39 Hillcrest Lake Drive, is secretary and J. Alfred Setts, 325 Jefferson, is treasurer. There is also a Board of Trustees composed of the past three presidents.

FELLOWSHIP AWARDED

To Graphics Professor, Steve M. Slaby, 469 Exing Street, Associate Professor of Graphics at Princeton University, has received a National Science Foundation Faculty Fellowship for research in engineering graphics at the Norges Technische Høyskole, in Trondheim, Norway. Prof. Slaby is one of approximately 300 college teachers so honored this year.

Prof. Slaby graduated from Lawrence Institute of Technology and received an M.A. in Economics from Wayne University. In 1951-52, under a Fulbright Scholarship, he studied Norwegian labor relations at the University of Oslo. The author of a text book on descriptive geometry, he taught engineering graphics at Princeton College and at Sampson College before joining the faculty here in 1954.

Report from THE MAYOR

Thursday Open House. The 1960 series of weekly "Tell it to the Mayor!" sessions will begin on Thursday, January 7, and Thursday, January 14, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

Two years ago, the open house was begun on an experimental basis to see whether it might prove useful. Now, as we begin the third year, it is apparent that the device has filled a need. It continues to offer the Mayor a useful way of measuring citizen interest in local government. It is a constant source of constructive ideas and suggestions.

Two Ordinances. On December 29, as the old year was rapidly ending, the Borough Council accomplished some major business at a special meeting. After public hearings, two ordinances were passed. They involved numerous changes in the traffic and parking ordinance, as well as in the parking meter ordinance.

There was also a discussion of correspondence with the Division of Alcoholic Beverage Control concerning the possible issuance of an additional license if the one formerly charged to both Borough and Township is now to be charged only to the Township, as permitted by recent legislation. Council also accomplished some year-end business transactions to help in closing out the books for the fiscal year 1960. This involved minor transfers between accounts and the establishment of reserves for unpaid bills.

A New Start. In accordance with law and custom, the Mayor and Council held its annual reorganization meeting promptly at noon on New Year's Day before a standing-room-only audience in the "hallroom" of Borough Hall. The brief session included adoption of a temporary budget, appointments to staff, board and committee posts, the swearing in of officials, and the reading of the Mayor's annual message.

Absent because of serious illness was Dr. Charles R. Erdman, Sr. who, for many years, has been on hand to pronounce the invocation. On this occasion, Dr. William L. Tucker, recently returned from his important church assignments abroad, offered a thoughtful prayer for divine guidance to Princeton in the new decade.

Special Greeting. More than two hundred and fifty people attended the buffet sponsored by the Mayor's wife at the Harrison Street firehouse in honor of the Borough's "official family" of staff members, elected officials and members of voluntary boards and committees. The informal party was just a symbol of the gratitude we all feel toward these men and women who help, year in and year out, to carry out the long tradition of local self-government here in Princeton.

At Township Hall. The Borough Mayor dropped by at Township Hall at 4 p.m. on New Year's Day to sit in on the organization meeting there and especially to extend greetings personally and on behalf of the Borough to R. Kenneth Fairman who will serve again this year as Township Mayor. The two Mayors have many opportunities for problem-sharing throughout the year.

SPECIAL SERVICE PLANNED

In University Chapel, Dean Ernest Gordon will conduct the University Chapel's annual Service of Commemoration at 11 on Sunday. The service will memorialize 23 members of the university community who have died during the past year.

Those to be commemorated include Archibald A. Gulick, trustee emeritus; William J. Clarke, retired head coach of baseball; Frances T. Crawford, retired director of teacher placement; Edmund N. Harvey, Osborn professor of biology, emeritus.

Also, staff members including

Charles S. Britton Jr., library; Monroe W. Carter, grounds and buildings; Julia B. Fleming, library; Leroy E. Hildman, grounds and buildings; Albert Hills, grounds and buildings, retired; Gustavus J. Hutchins, grounds and buildings, retired; Thomas C. Ingles, grounds and buildings; Douglas MacNaughton, School of Engineering.

Also, William C. Nichols, Department of Physics; Alyse T. Parnell, Isabella McCosh Infirmary; Charles C. Peterson, grounds and buildings, retired; Robert Taylor, grounds and buildings, retired; James Toole, grounds and buildings, retired; Farley E. Totton, Department of Chemistry; Fred Woolsten, grounds and buildings; Thomas Young, grounds and buildings.

NEW CLASSES ADDED

To Pre-natal Program. A new mother and baby care lecture series and an exercise class will be inaugurated by Princeton Hospital Monday in an expanded prenatal education program.

The new baby care program, jointly sponsored by the Princeton Hospital Medical Staff, the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the Visiting Nurse Association, will be held Monday nights from 7:30 to 9 in the Hospital's auxiliary room. For those interested, the exercise class will follow the lecture session and be held from 9 to 10.

Members of the Nursing Department and the Visiting Nurse Association will conduct the series of eight lectures. Applications are available at the three agencies sponsoring the program and at doctors' offices. All applications must be returned to the Red Cross office by Friday, the deadline for the first class.

MUSIC In PrincetonBEETHOVEN SONATA SET

For Concert Monday, Beethoven's "Hammerklavier" Sonata will be one of the main features on the program of pianist Mieczyslaw Horowitz at the Princeton University Concert to be held Monday at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre. The concert, second in Series I of the University Concert Series, has been sold out by subscription. However, 50 standing room tickets will be sold at the box office beginning at 7:30 p.m. the night of the concert.

The "Hammerklavier" Sonata, also known as Sonata Number 29 in B flat, Opus 106, was composed toward the end of Beethoven's life, at the time he was working on his Ninth Symphony, and is considered one of his outstanding works. Mr. Horowitz, who is known as one of the great interpreters of Beethoven's music, recently undertook the unprecedented task of playing almost the entire solo piano literature of Beethoven in a series of 12 recitals in New York. He also participated with Pablo Casals in the Beethoven Festival in Barcelona.

Also on the program will be Opus 116 of Brahms, "Fantasies," and a Sonata, "Canon on Capriccio by Niccolò Paganini," by the modern composer, Luigi Dallapiccola.

Mr. Horowitz, now in his middle sixties, began his career at the age of five, when he was known as a child prodigy. In addition to his work with Pablo Casals, he has given many concerts with Joseph Szigeti, the Budapest Quartet, and others. Virgil Thompson wrote of him in the New York Herald Tribune that "few pianists play with such beauty, such distinction and such unflinching seriousness of thought."

he held this Sunday at 5 p.m. in Miss Fine's School Gym. The Motets will be "Jesu meine Freude," "Singet dem Herrn," and "Lobet den Herrn."

Professor J. Merrill Knapp of the Department of Music of Princeton University will conduct. The meeting is open to the public. Super reservations should be made before Saturday by calling Mrs. MacKenly Bryan between 2 and 4:30 p.m. at WA 4-0453.

PIANIST WILL PLAY

In Seminary Recital. Ludwig Olshansky, young pianist who is on the eve of his second European tour, will give a recital Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in the auditorium of the Campus Center at Princeton Theological Seminary. The recital is open to the public without charge.

Winner of high awards during his years at Juillard, Mr. Olshansky also won the auditions held by "An Hour of Music, Inc.," an organization which presents young artists in recital before their New York debut. He performed last year in Stockholm, Copenhagen, Oslo, London, Amsterdam and Vienna.

For his Princeton appearance, he will play the four Schubert Impromptus in Opus 90, Schumann's Fantasia in C Major, Opus 17; the Beethoven Sonata in E Major, Opus 109; Debussy's "Reflets dans l'Eau" and the Ballade in F, Opus 38 by Chopin.

WEEKEND PAPERS BACK AFTER THREE-WEEK ABSENCE. Saturday evening New York papers were delivered to Princeton newsstands last weekend after being missing for three successive weeks. Photographer Alan W. Richards, Princeton - Kingston Road, played a part in the return by writing to the World-Telegram and the Sun to advise it of the situation.

Mr. Richards' letter resulted in a visit to Princeton last week by Theodore H. Heinhold, a district representative of the World-Telegram and Sun. Mr. Heinhold called on all Princeton newsdealers who carry the newspaper and checked with baggage personnel at Princeton Junction in an effort to remedy the problem.

Newsdealer Harold M. Hinkson Sr. said the papers had been shipped from New York, but train personnel refused to unload them at Princeton Junction because a non-union substitute baggage handler was working at the station. The regular union man was back on the job last weekend, he said, but the problem will arise again whenever the substitute is employed.

MEET THE BOARD

At Borough P.T.A. Meeting. Members of the Borough Board of Education will discuss "What the Board of Education Seeks in Its Teachers" next Tuesday when the Borough P.T.A. meets at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of Nassau School.

All candidates for election to the Board have been invited to the meeting and they will be introduced to the public at that time.

NEW AGRICULTURE CENTER: Research at American Cyanamid Company's new Agriculture Center will be carried on in the building shown in this architect's sketch. The building, to be located on 640-acre site in West Windsor Township, is expected to be completed in 1961. It will house laboratories for research in animal and plant sciences and in basic chemistry.

AGRICULTURE CENTER SET
Planned by American Cyanamid, Construction of a new Agriculture Center, to be located on the outskirts of Princeton, is currently underway by the American Cyanamid Company. The new center, which is expected to be completed in 1961, will combine modern facilities for laboratory research and development work with practical field-testing conditions similar to those found on a well-run private farm.

The site is located three miles southwest of the Penn Neck Circle, in West Windsor Township. It is bounded on the northwest by U.S. Route 1, on the southeast by the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad and on the southwest by Province Line Road.

Research at the Agriculture Center will be directed to an experimental program on animal and plant health, food preservation and professional veterinary research. Approximately 500 acres of the 640-acre site will be planted in agronomic crops — legumes, grasses and winter wheat — with about 100 acres left in woodland and 15 acres devoted to animal test facilities.

Major part of the activities at the center will be carried on in the main research and administration building. Designed by Voorhees, Walker, Smith and Haines, New York architects, this will be a two-story brick building in a campus-like setting.

Three Types of Research.
The building will have three major wings, each devoted to a different phase of agricultural activity. One of these, the Animal Science Wing, will be devoted to the development of new products to promote animal health and to the improvement of American Cyanamid's present line of antibiotic and vitamin feed supplements, animal vaccines, sera, antibiotics, and professional veterinary products.

Another, the Plant Science Wing, will house a research group concerned with plant nutrients, insecticides, fungicides, herbicides, nematocides, growth regulators and other products to improve crop production. The third, a Chemistry Wing, will be devoted to studies involving basic chemical research in both the animal and plant science fields.

Working with the basic research groups will be animal and plant development sections which will test research findings to determine their effectiveness under everyday farm conditions. Farm buildings, designed to provide ideal conditions for animal nutrition and disease studies, are in the process of construction. The buildings include a poultry unit, capable of handling 28,000 broilers on test in a year, or a comparable number of layers; a swine production unit including farrowing stalls, dry-lot feeding pens and rotating pastures, and a ruminant section with barns and pastures for nutritional studies with steer and sheep.

Isolation Unit in Operation.
A large animal isolation unit is already in operation. This unit allows researchers to conduct studies simultaneously on 20 groups of animals, free of contamination from contagious diseases, without danger of cross-contamination.

The Agriculture Center is operated by American Cyanamid's Agricultural Division, and will bring together research groups formerly located at the company's Stamford, Conn., and Pearl River, N. Y., laboratories. Approximately 850 people will be employed at the center when it is fully staffed, with Dr. J. T. Thurston heading the administrative staff as manager of research and development.

LOCAL LEADERS NAMED

For March Of Dimes Campaign.
Leaders of the March of Dimes campaign in the Princeton area were announced this week by Thomas Maddock, county director. The campaign began this week and will continue through January, climaxing with the Mothers' March on January 28.

Local leaders are: Princeton, Malcolm C. Magner of Maple Lane, Pennington, who is with the Princeton Bank & Trust Co.; Hopewell, Mrs. Samuel K. Hunt, East Prospect Street; Lawrenceville, Mrs. Charles E. Connell, Jr., 19 Skillman Avenue; and Lawrence Township, Morton S. Kline, 102 Roxboro Road.

$1,000,000 REACHED

In Lawrenceville Campaign.
The Lawrenceville School's 150th Anniversary Fund campaign has reached a total of $1,027,528 to date, it was announced this week by Ernie McClellan, head master. With this much on hand, Mr. McClellan said, it appears certain that the fund will reach and possibly surpass its $1,000,000 goal during the current year.

The campaign was stimulated recently by a challenge gift of $250,000, offered by an anonymous donor, and contingent upon the fund's reaching $3,750,000 by Christmas. Meeting that challenge brought the fund to its present total.

Leaders of the campaign in the Lawrenceville-Princeton area are Edward C. Rose, Jr., Mercer Street, and Frederick H. Price, Jr., 108 Parkside Drive, both Princeton. There are 288 Lawrenceville alumni in the area.

CERAMICS COURSE SET

By Princeton YWCA.
A twelve-week course in ceramics will be offered this term by Princeton YWCA. Rex Goreleigh of the Studio-on-the-Canal will be instructor. The course will open January 13 and will be held each Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Enrollment will be limited. Those interested are asked to call the YWCA at WA 4-4822 for information and registration.

ANTIQUE SHOW LISTED

By Wellesley Club.
The Wellesley College Club of Central New Jersey has completed plans for its first annual Princeton Antiques Show and Sale to be held March 22 to 24 at Princeton Country Day School. Proceeds will go to the Club's May Margaret Fine Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. John Gulick is chairman of the event and will be assisted by the following committee members: Mrs. Frank Gorman, Mrs. George Meller, Mrs. Bruce Metzger, Mrs. William A. Stuart, Mrs. Henry Broad, Mrs. Bryce Maxwell, Mrs. Everett Garretson and Mrs. Harry Heber.

Following is the text of the third annual New Year's Day Message delivered by Mayor Raymond F. Mule.

A Look at the Future. One of Princeton's continuing traditions is the New Year's Day custom of a Mayor's annual message to the members of Council and to the citizens of the Borough. This is my third opportunity to engage in this brief form of official stock-taking, of pointing up some needs, and of taking a cautious look into the future that lies ahead of us.

Certainly it is a privilege to serve this great town and, on the basis of conviction and faith, as your Mayor for the second time. I want to express my gratitude to all those who have helped to make this experience a most rewarding one.

Let me say that my first term as Mayor has not changed any of the basic convictions with which I faced this opportunity at the outset. I will believe—and with a determination based on experience—that we must continue, in every possible way, to operate an open government, to keep the people fully informed and to speak frankly of our problems. We must continue to widen citizen participation in the affairs of local government. We must strive for continuing improvement in our cooperative relationships with our neighboring municipalities and with the many agencies and groups closely locked with ours. We must continue, with the help of a competent and dedicated staff, to maintain the necessary local services on a prudent and efficient basis.

Because I believe that certain of the ways for effecting more open government have become accepted as helpful procedures, I pledge to continue the agenda preparation sessions of Council eight days before the regular meetings so that an agenda can be presented to the local press for the information of the citizens. I shall continue the weekly open house sessions at Borough Hall whereby any citizen can "tell to the Mayor." Informally and without appointment. I shall also continue to make available to the press a weekly report because it has been proved that people are interested in local government if they are kept informed.

Hopes to Hold Tax Line. Many of the problems confronting Council in 1960 will not be new problems. The new decade for the Borough of Princeton will find us wrestling with some of the same problems that our predecessors faced. We shall try to develop the annual budget for necessary improvements that will hold the line on tax rates despite the fact that only a very small percentage of the $6,600,000 building permits last year will be reflected in tax-paying rates.

In 1960, as in 1959, the accent will be on planning for the future. The important work of the past year, during which we have made some constructive adjustments of the Planning Board under the leadership of our consultant planner, with the full participation of members of the Council, will be still further advanced. The contract for some seventeen major planning items, including an updated master plan and necessary amendments to the zoning ordinance, calls for completion this year of technical studies which, if adopted by Council, can profoundly affect the future of Princeton for years to come.

The future of Princeton will continue to demand a high priority on our attention. Insistent pressure, in concert with our neighbors in the three counties of Mercer, Middlesex and Somerset, must be kept on the long-neglected by-pass from Route 206 to US 1 in Princeton. And although it is wholly outside our Borough territorial limits, we must be interested in early action on plans for a diversionary loop road around the Borough to relieve some of the mounting congestion on Nassau Street and other Borough arteries.

The Borough's future will also be shaped in a significant way by the progress of the coming months on urban renewal. A significant step forward can be made through the announced willingness of Township officials to plan for public housing units on Borough-owned land there; and 1960 should mark this further step in Borough-Township cooperation in what has been a community-wide problem.

Public Safety Improved. The past year has again significant in important aspects of public safety. The Borough Safety Committee under its chairman, Magistrate Tams, has made notable progress in helping us to find solutions in many old and new problems. Council should be commended for passing the much-needed, though controversial, rabies control ordinance. The new Fire Prevention Bureau made its first beginnings at what must become a much more vigorous enforcement of our new fire code. Many of the recommendations of the MacNamara report on our police administration were implemented during the past year, including the significant item of promotions based on merit rather than seniority. The modern police radio system has just been installed and represents a vast improvement over the old equipment. Council wisely proceeded on the Hamilton Avenue sidewalk construction and intends to continue on a programmed basis until all sidewalks of the Borough are completed.

More remains to be done

REPUBLICAN COUNCILMEN: William H. Walker 2d and Alfred E. Borenson (left) began new term January 1 on Borough Council, the latter starting his seventh year as a member of the governing body.

Council attention in the safety area for 1960. The Safety Committee will have further recommendations with respect to pedestrian safety. Other items remain in connection with the police study. The Borough Attorney is planning a special training program for our police in connection with their court appearances. It may be that Council should consider the appointment of a full-time staff person to carry the responsibility for day-to-day fire inspection work, freeing the Fire Prevention Bureau to fix policy and to review serious violations.

As you know, the designated representatives of Borough and Township are working to develop a Joint Library Agreement, a prerequisite to a referendum on possible joint operation of our public library. If the voters in each municipality approve this in November, serious work and planning will doubtless be undertaken with respect to a site and ultimately a building that would provide for this growing service. It is hoped that friends of the library may help to underwrite this venture through private gifts, but a share of the capital investment will probably be anticipated as part of our capital budget planning for the next several years.

Meanwhile, I feel I must again call the Council's attention to the fact that Princeton does not have a municipal building adequate to its needs. In asking that the matter be studied last year, I pointed out that we have encouraged citizen participation at meetings, but we have no room for them to participate effectively. Our police headquarters is inadequate and, once again in 1960, our jail has been condemned by state authorities.

Delay Will Be Costly. During 1959, we met with the trustees of Thomson Hall and found them willing to cooperate in approaching the courts with respect to a ninety-year lease so that we might build an adequate structure on this site. Our Borough Engineer has made some preliminary studies of space requirements and our Borough Clerk has pointed to some comparable towns where recent building programs have been handled at moderate cost. We cannot delay this decision without facing the reality that we will have to make prompt and substantial investments to maintain some semblance of work space in this inadequate structure which we do not own.

I repeat from my 1959 message, with conviction and I hope with some sense of urgency, that "I cannot believe that Princeton is too poor to provide adequate, efficient work space for its Borough officials and staff and for the citizens who increasingly use these services and take part in meetings, conferences, court sessions and other essential municipal activities."

Many other areas of Borough program will come before you for action in 1960. Our Board of Health is completing a thorough study of our public health program and will have some policy questions for your consideration. The Recreation Committee, which will be working cooperatively with their counterparts in the Township, will be reporting at some time to me. Our own Finance Committee is giving the highest attention to our future. Our Borough Attorney has undertaken a number of legal problems on which Council action will be needed in the coming months. The engineering staff will have a number of special items for your attention, including the extension of Prospect Avenue to the Township line.

As we begin a new year, it is fitting that we should take this comprehensive look at the problems and the opportunities that represent the challenges of the days ahead. On this New Year's Day, let me also extend to all of you, the members of the Council, the Borough staff and officials, and to all our citizens of Princeton a warm wish for a happy and healthy year. A special word is due to Councilman Sorenson who begins his third term of service and to Councilman Walker who has served since November by the expiration of Mayor and Council to the unexpired term of Councilman Mather. Mr. Walker begins today the term for which he was elected on November 3rd. Also, we welcome to the official family today Mr. Theodore Stratford, newly elected Tax Collector. We should express our thanks to Mr. Gordon Waldron who served out the unexpired term of Mr. William Kerr who retired last January 1st.

As we begin a new year, I hope you share my feeling that we have been granted a fine opportunity to serve our fellow man and that there is no finer place to serve than here in Princeton.

CHINA IN PRINCETON

Great Library Offers Culture. The two men who founded the Gest Oriental Library might be surprised to find a dark-eyed, black-haired child sitting among their treasures looking at a modern children's picture book, or a woman searching in a special section of the shelves for a "best seller" to read over the weekend. But possibly they wouldn't, since both of them, the American engineer and the Navy Commander, were dedicated to the preservation of Chinese culture, and even a picture book is a beginning.

Dr. Shih-kang Tung, Curator of the Gest collection, estimates there are about 60 borrowers of the "reading for pleasure" volumes in the library. The Princeton Chinese community comprises some 20 families — for the most part professional people, doctors, teachers, University faculty, and staff, scientists and researchers in industry and their wives and children. The University adds 30 or more students. The Gest Library with a rack of contemporary periodicals to offer provides a meeting place and a tie to a common heritage with Dr. Tung himself in the role of arbiter.

A source of material for the journal reviewer was hardly the inclusion of Guinn Gest and his adviser, L. V. Giliss, when they made the first purchases of a "collectors library." Gest, successful head of an engineering firm with business ties in China, became interested in Chinese medicine through trying to find a cure for a serious eye disease which he suffered.

He asked his friend, the Naval Attaché at the Teking Legation, to supply him with books on the subject. The 2000 volumes on Chinese materia medica, particularly pertaining to diseases of the eye which the Commander bought, became the nucleus of the library eventually numbering over 10,000 volumes — far beyond the original plan. This was the "accidental" founding of a library, more than half its contents indicated as "collectors pieces," and matchless outside of China and Japan. After a brief stay at McGill University and a temporary location in Princeton, the collection is now housed in First-line Library. The acquisition of new volumes, sometimes four or five twice a year, plus the Princeton University Oriental library, ranks it third in size in the country.

Subject Matter Varied. The Chinese reading public who avail themselves of the popular books find they cover the subject matter of any good circulating library: contemporary and classic fiction, travel books, essays, criticism, and poetry. Among the most regular borrowers are two young women whose interests bridge the difference between east and west with intellectual enthusiasm for the best of two cultures.

Mrs. Sun, whose husband Dr. Chih-ree Sun, is a physicist on the research staff of the Princeton-Pennsylvania Accelerator, is a writer. The other, the wife of Dr. Frederick Mote of the University Department of Oriental Studies, is a painter in classic Chinese style.

Both are college women. Mrs. Sun holds a degree from Taiwan University and in journalism from UCLA. Mrs. Mote is an alumna of Gilling College (the "sister" institution, formerly in Nanking, of Smith College), and of the University of Washington.

While at college Mrs. Sun won a creative writing award given by Hollywood veteran Samuel Goldwyn. The New York Times, in reporting the award quoted Mrs. Sun, then Lee Hwa Yu (still her pen name), as saying, "I still have trouble with prepositions but slowly am I learning."

Her trouble with prepositions seems to be over. She is now writing in English short stories which she hopes will explain China to Americans. She is a regular contributor to "Free China," a Chinese language magazine published in Formosa and to a literary review also brought out in Taipei.

A Greeting Graduate. Mrs. Mote came to Princeton after a period of travel with her teaching husband; Stanford University in California; a position in Kyoto; back again to Formosa where they had been married; a year in Leyden Holland; and finally, Princeton. A member of the last class at Gilling College before the Communist regime, she is one of the six Gilling alumnae living in Princeton who help support a "Middle School" in Formosa organized by the college administration who had fled Nanking.

Both these women speak Chinese with their friends, wear the dress developed from the Manchurian costume, have adopted a new country without letting go the old.

Fortunately, the four or five publishers who were able to leave the Chinese mainland at the start of the war took with them type matrices and set up shop again in Formosa. These works, as well as those from Communist China distributed through Hong Kong and London, keep the Oriental library supplied with the new Chinese language books.

Among the exquisite manuscripts, the 13th century wood block printing, the "Palace" editions of historical and encyclopedic works, modern Chinese reprints may offer strange company. Mrs. Sun and Mrs. Mote are grateful for all of them, even Chinese translations of English novels. "Gone with the Wind" is an impressive volume in English; in Chinese it seems prodigious. Mrs. Sun has read it in both.

NEW LOOK ON VIEW

In Bink Saturday Night, Firm in the belief that it has turned the corner toward brighter days, Princeton's hockey team will display its talents Saturday night in Baker Rink against Brown. The contest is set for 8 p.m.

In a league that figures to be more evenly matched than in its past years, both the Tigers and their Rhode Island rivals have thoughts of dethroning champion Dartmouth. Princeton bases its optimism on the high-scoring senior line that has been the source of much of its goals this season, plus the improved defensive play that was missing last winter.

The Orange and Black first trio of Captain John McBride, Pete Cook and Tony Peil gives indication of being able to match the output of any other unit in the Ivy circuit. With goalie Barry Van Gering giving frequent brilliant performances, and the defensive pair of Tom Campbell and Chris Gordon, Page Chapman and Paul BURGERT strengthening the Tigers in this department, hopes are for a season above the 500 mark and a finish well up in the Ivy standings.

Brown, like the Tigers, has not broken even against its early opposition but includes a 2-2 victory over Boston University among its top achievements this season. The Bruins' first line of Bob Baffel, Dave Gault and Dave Kelley is a fast-skating, aggressive unit which makes the visitors' a persistent scoring threat. The Providence axis took both league games from Princeton a year ago, and also earned a non-Ivy decision over the Orange and Black in the R. P. L. Tournament.

Two Weekend Games Lost. A trip to upper New York State last week unopened a pair of defeats to the Tigers, but the opportunity in both cases was somewhat stronger than the opponents Princeton will meet in forthcoming Ivy action. Clarkson won a 2-1 victory and St. Lawrence rallied to earn a 7-5 decision.

Clarkson's two first-period goals were all it needed against a Tiger sextet that showed the effects of a one-day layoff. Stunner Eilon-Miller nudged the puck midway through the second round to avert a shutout, with the home force exhilarating in the final period. Van Gering gave a good account of himself in the goal, but the scoring punch was lacking.

St. Lawrence, which Princeton has never beaten in hockey, took a 10 lead Saturday night at Canton, N. Y. The Tigers, however, staged their best offensive display of the season as they scored five straight times to hold a 5-1 advantage with ten minutes left.

Pete Cook paced the attack with a pair of goals, while Chris Gordon, Tony Peil and Hugh Scott got the others. The Tigers could not hold on, yielding three goals in the last half of the final period.

A contest with the St. Nicholas Club was on the schedule for this Wednesday night at 8 in Baker Rink. Next week will bring high-scoring Middlebury here on Thursday, with Dartmouth on hand for its January appearance in more than a quarter-century the following Saturday afternoon. The Indians have invariably ended Princeton's schedule in Baker Rink on the first Saturday in March, but

QUINTEZ DSAPOINTS

Tigers Lack Balance. The degree to which Princeton's basketball team is short of balance was emphasized in clearest fashion Saturday night in the Palestra. The Tigers lost, 67-57, to Pennsylvania and all but 17 of their points were scored by two players.

Pete Campbell (see "Camgratulate," page 25) and Captain Jim Brangan scored 21 and 19 points, respectively, but the other eight players who saw action for the losers were ineffective. This was particularly so as Princeton sought to puncture the Quakers' zone defense with side-court set shots; the three players assigned to hit from outside netted only two for 17 on the evening.

Princeton's problem is that Penn's pre-season evaluation of its own strength was not optimistic, and the Quakers were a good choice to finish in second division. They had done little to dispel such thinking, particularly in view of a loss to a mediocre Rutgers quintet. Their ten-point victory last weekend makes the road Trenton must travel appear a good deal rougher.

It was 21-ail after a sloppy first-half, the Tigers erasing a six-point deficit just before the intermission on baskets by Al Kaemmerlen, Don Swan and Campbell. Early in the final period, Brangan hit to give the Orange and Black a short-lived 22-20 advantage but Penn regained the lead and was rarely pressed thereafter.

The Tigers will not be at home until next Wednesday, when they entertain the Quakers to complete the 1960 series. Princeton will be on the road this weekend, meeting Yale at New Haven Friday night and traveling to Providence Saturday to face Brown.

Both opponents are enjoying better seasons than the Tigers, who must find one or more players to support the Brangan-Campbell duo if they are going anywhere at all. It is a rare exception when Princeton does not figure in the Ivy race at least to mid-February, but this winter may see that occur.

OTHER SPORTS

Various Contests On Tap. Navy's perennially-powerful squash team will be here Friday afternoon at 4:30 to face John Conny's good outfit in Dillon Gym. The fencing team entertains New York University Saturday at 2, with the wrestlers hoping to achieve their first victory of the season that same afternoon when they take on Columbia in New York.

The improving swimmers have a pair of meets away from home next week, traveling to New York Tuesday to face Columbia and to Ithaca Saturday to take on Cornell. All winter sports activity will shut down for two weeks after the events of January 16 for the term-end examinations.

PETE CAMPBELL Princeton Guard

Princeton's basketball team may have difficulty in landing a first division Ivy berth this season but the faithful who trek to Dillon Gym should find pleasure in watching a varsity newcomer. Sophomore Pete Campbell, whose promise as a freshman is being upheld in his early games on Onyiah Cappon's quiet, gives clear indication of becoming one of the high-scoring performers in Princeton history.

Last winter, in the 11-game schedule that Princeton's freshman quintet completed, Campbell hit for 36 points on three different occasions and finished with a total of 295—well above figures posted in their first year by such high-scoring operatives as Bernie Adams, Bud Huested, Whitley Fulcomer and Carl Reiz.

This season, in the eight games the Tigers have played so far, the 20-year old resident of Ho-ho-kus has always been in double figures and is credited with 147 points for a fine 18.4 average. Campbell is no point-happy tyro who shoots wildly at the expense of team welfare: his floor average so far is a sparkling .455, while his percentage from the foul line is a highly-satisfactory .758.

His height (6-1) dictates that he serve as a back-court operative, thus necessitating solid accuracy on a variety of set shots. But the Tiger sophomore is also adept at driving for the basket, either laying it up from point-blank range or pushing the ball through as he goes across the foul circle.

When Campbell hit for 26 points against Tennessee, carrying the Tiger offense with Captain Jim Brangan as a two-man team, the Vol's coach commented that "both those back-court players of Princeton's could make most any team in the country." It is worth noting that most of Campbell's 147 points have been registered against such highly-regarded outfits as Villanova, Temple, Vanderbilt and Tennessee, indicating that he may well maintain his average in the Ivy action that lies ahead.

Campbell's ability is such that if he had reached the tat if he had reached the varsity a year earlier, Princeton would have had sufficient extra scoring punch to win the league championship last winter—rather than lose it in the final seconds of a playoff game. Hopes are that before he graduates, sufficient balance will be forthcoming from other Princetonnians to give the Tigers a combination that will return them to first-place contention.

Notable individual scores: Fred Lehnert, 24, and Bruce Rittenhouse, 21, in the Industrial League; Bill Dumble, 243, and John Zinsmeister, 228, in the "A" League; Sam Seuler, 194-184, and Betty Kleiber, 162, in the Mixed League.

NEW YEAR, NEW OPPORTUNITY: Coach Tony Borask and these key members of the Princeton High School basketball team are hopeful that 1960 will bring an upward turn in their fortunes. NEW ATTACK NEEDED

In New Year by PHS Quintet. The Princeton High School basketball team will play its second game of an eight-game January schedule. Friday afternoon, opposing Hamilton High School here. Tuesday afternoon the Bound Brook High School five will entertain the Little Tigers to keep court action moving at a brisk pace.

The new year finds the Blue and White with a basic need for an improved attack. In its first four games, Princeton High has hit for low 38.5 average, while its opponents have connected for a healthy 59.3 average, a 20 point difference. Such a point disparity doesn't lend itself to winning half games.

Figures can be misleading, however, and most of the Little Tigers' poor average is the result of a lopsided 66-16 loss to Trenton High School. The question that will be answered this month is whether the team will treat that defeat as just a game played last year and one to be forgotten, or whether the specter of that humiliation will carry over into 1960.

Jack Lackey and Jimmy Barbour have emerged as the team's leading scorers. Ted Meredith is most proficient at driving in for an underhand layup shot, while Archie Freeman has been getting most of his points via one-handed push shots from mid-court.

If their desire and their efforts can be blended to create a more balanced attack, the Little Tigers will show a definite improvement and may reverse their current trend. The team played its first game of 1960 Wednesday at Peddie, too late for the result to appear in this week's issue.

HUN RESUMES PLAY

Saturday Against Pennington. The Hun basketball team will play its first game of 1960 Saturday evening when it meets the visiting Pennington Prep quintet. Next Wednesday, the team will travel to Moorestown for a Pennsylvania League game.

Having played only two games to date, winning its opener with Bryn Athyn and losing the second to Salebury, Coach George Sellick's team, composed mostly of sophomores and juniors, is still in the formative stage. The school had a disappointing record last season, in winning only two games, and is eager to reverse matters this year.

The Red and Black has been good on shooting and ball control but weak on rebounding. Coach Sellick is attempting to add the last break to the Hun attack this season.

SKI TRIP PLANNED

By Princeton Ski Club. At a meeting at House's Restaurant, Route 1, 8:30 Wednesday evening, final arrangements will be made for a ski trip to Bromley by the Princeton Ski Club.

Ernest Gilwood will present a program on ski instruction, including a movie of Svein Erickson illustrating various ski techniques. All those in Princeton interested in skiing or in learning to ski are invited to attend.

Above are sketches of a few of the new industrial plants erected in New Jersey during 1959.

Industrial growth during the year 1959 was healthy in the New Jersey area served by Public Service Electric and Gas Company. More new industries came to New Jersey, at the Crossroads of the East, than during the previous year. The final quarter was particularly successful, and there is every indication that industrial progress here will continue during the coming months and years.

Throughout our territory there is visual proof of the growth of industry, as well as new commercial centers, new office buildings and new residential areas. New, modern, landscaped industrial establishments are seen in the Delaware Valley section, as well as in Central and Northeastern New Jersey. Shopping centers and housing developments have risen in many parts of the area served by Public Service. Urban renewal is taking place in many cities.

The years ahead hold great promise. All of these facts reflect the growth of New Jersey, and Public Service is growing along with this great state. We are planning and building ahead to meet all demands for our services.

Obituaries

Albert van Eerden, 54, of 59 Wilton Road, died January 1 in St. Luke's Hospital, New York City. Born in Grand Rapids, Mich., he was a special agent for the Prudential Life Insurance Company in New York. He taught for 11 years in the Department of Modern Languages at Princeton University, following service on the faculties of the University of Michigan and Dartmouth College. He received his AB degree in 1927 from the University of Michigan, and gained his AM in 1933 from the same institution. New York University awarded him the Ostendorfer Memorial Fellowship in 1930 and 1931.

During World War II, Mr. van Eerden was deputy chief of the United States Information Service in Vienna. He was a member of the University of Michigan Club, the Life Underwriters Association of New York and the Million Dollar Round Table, as well as a past board director of the Springfield Golf Club. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cecelia Joakim van Eerden; three daughters, Mrs. Marvin L. Clark and Miss Alice M. van Eerden, both of Princeton and Mrs. Dana W. Anderson of Boulder, Colo.; two brothers, Henry and Andrew van Eerden, both of Grand Rapids, and the Rev. Thomas van Eerden of Chicago; three sisters, Mrs. Charles J. Jones, Mrs. Frederick Walstra and Mrs. John Zandee, all of Grand Rapids; and a grandchild.

The funeral was held in the Princeton University Chapel with the Rev. Robert N. Smyth officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery under the direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Oliver Spaulding, 68, of Gurney Hall, Lavers Lane, died January 1 at his winter home in Snowcut Grove, Fla., of a heart attack. Bank and Trust Company since 1935 when he was named vice-president, he became head of the trust department in 1939. A member of the bank from 1924 until his death, he was chairman of the board's trust committee from 1951 until his retirement in 1952.

A graduate of the University of Michigan in 1912 where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Beta Theta Pi, he attended the University of Chicago in 1912 and 1913, and spent the following two years at the Institut des Hautes Etudes Internationales in Paris. He was admitted to the American bar in 1920, following service during World War I in the Field Artillery Training School.

He was chief of the Corporation Bureau of Michigan for four years, was associate attorney of Clinton County, Mich., secretary and general counsel of the Detroit Creamery, and a vice-president of the Equitable Trust Company of Detroit.

His scholarly interests included the classics, and French and Italian literature. He was a former member of the vestry of Trinity Episcopal Church. A sister, Mrs. Edward Echart of Clearwater, Fla., a niece and two nephews survive. The service and cremation were held at the Princeton Funeral Home.

George W. Bohn, 47, a former Princeton resident, died December 31 at his home in the 5400 Rocker Building. He was an employee of the SKF Roller Bearing Company.

His survivors include two brothers, Karl F. Bohn of Princeton and John G. Bohn of Madison, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Hendon of Westminster, Md., and Mrs. T. H. Tyler of Winter Haven.

The Rev. David C. Crawford, pastor of the second Presbyterian Church, officiated at the service, held at the Mather Funeral Home. Interment was at the convenience of the family.

Mrs. Bertha E. Bohn, 85, who has lived 120 Nassau Street, died December 31 in Trenton after a long illness. The widow of Otto Bohn, she was born in Duncannon, Pa., and was a choir member at Trinity Episcopal Church here for more than 20 years.

She is survived by a son, Stanley O. Bohn of Princeton, and a daughter, Mrs. Daniel Applegate of Hopewell. The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, with the Rev. F. C. Huntington, assistant minister of Trinity Church, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Nachumson, 80, of 213 Herald Street, died December 31 at her home. The widow of Samuel Nachumson, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Bailey of Princeton; two brothers, Jack Minter of New York City and Benjamin Minter of Miami, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Beale Blason of Chicago; four stepsons, Joseph, Morris, Harry and William Nachumson, all of Trenton; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Trenton with interment in the Brothers of Israel Cemetery.

Miss Vera Oumancoff, 73, of 26 Linden Lane, died December 31 at her home after a long illness. She was born in Mariopol, Russia. Her only survivor is a sister, Mrs. Jacques Maritain of Princeton.

The service was held at St. Paul's Church with burial in the parish cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Rachel M. Peterson, 73, of a London Road, died January 4 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. Widow of William A. Peterson, she was born in Amherst, Wis., and had lived here for the past two years.

Mrs. Peterson is survived by her son, Donald W., with whom she lived here; a daughter, seven grandchildren and a sister. The funeral will be held Friday in Amherst, with burial in Greenwood Cemetery there.

Mrs. Mary E. Hyland, 81, formerly of Cranbury Neck Road, died January 4 in a Windsor nursing home. The widow of James P. Hyland, she is survived by a son, Lester J. Hyland of South Pasadena, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Worthington of Yardley, Penna.; a grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Robert Good of the Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church will officiate the funeral, to be held in Cranbury. Interment will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hightstown.
